Re: Eurovent Certification 2014

Recuperator Spa announces the success, this year again, on the Eurovent Certification test, run in Lucern University laboratory.

This time the test has been effected on the 08 Model of the F Series, with close spacing.

We want to state then Recuperator Spa reliability in performances declaration, confirmed at each new test, without any surprise.

Recuperator Spa, in fact, disposes of an internal test laboratory for its heat exchangers and have based on it the continuous growth in the years.

Particularly, the high efficiency of the F series with close spacing gives a fast return to the investments of the company, thanks to the pushing of the North Europe market, on the effectiveness and on the transfer surface entity.

We are proud to have you among our customers and we would be happy to hear your appreciation for the Recuperator Spa commitment on the product innovation.

Best regards

C. Leone
